DETAILED ACTION

1. This is in response to the applicant's communication filed on October 27, 2005, wherein:

Claims 1, 3-9, 11-17, 19-24 are currently pending;

Claims 1, 9, and 17 have been amended.

Response to Amendment

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1, 3-9, 11-17, and 19-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

In claims 1, 9 and 17, the applicant added the language "each criterion corresponding to one or more of the pricing rules." A summary of the invention states that a "price for the requested function space is determined based upon the set of pricing rules and one or more of the criterion".

Furthermore, the applicant amended claims 1, 9 and 17 to include the language of canceled claims 2, 10 and 18. However, in the original claim language of claims 2, 9, and 17, the applicant's claim language read "wherein the plurality of criteria includes criteria selected from a group of criteria consisting of date, day-part, current demand and supplementary sales". Applicant now amends the language to read "the set of pricing rules including pricing rules pertaining to date, day-part, current demand, or supplementary sales" and "each criterion corresponding to one or more of the pricing rules".

Applicant was requested to point to where the claimed limitations are in the specification. The applicant directed the Examiner to paragraph [43]. Paragraph [43] discloses the following:

[0043] However, it is often the case that a reservation management system does not have the liberty to establish a reservation based upon category space. This is because customers may request specific space for any number of reasons(e.g., requesting the ballroom with the ocean view). This becomes an additional source for generating revenue, as customers are typically willing to pay more for such specific requests. The function space reservation management system in one embodiment maintains the flexibility to allocate specific space when requested and category space otherwise.

The applicant has now amended claims 1, 9 and 17 to read upon determining that the requested function space satisfying the one or more of the plurality of criteria is available, determining a price for the requested function space based upon the set of pricing rules and one or more plurality of criteria. Applicant is requested to direct the Examiner as to where the claimed limitations are in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 3-9, 11-17, 19-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Bingham et al (US 2002/0069094) (hereinafter referred to as Bingham).

Referring to Claims 1, 9, and 17:

Bingham discloses a method, a machine readable medium for providing instructions which cause the processor to perform the method (page 3 [0025]), and a system (Figs. 1, 2a, 2b, 3) for performing the method comprising:

receiving a request ([0008] a reservation request is received from a user) for a function space (resources for meetings) at a digital processing system (Internet based system), the digital processing system containing an availability information for one or more function spaces at a plurality of remote properties (multiple meeting facility resources) and a set of pricing rules for one or more function spaces (Examiner interprets this as rules for determining the price of the space), the set of pricing rules pertaining to supplementary sales (as defined by applicant in the specification in paragraph [49] For example, the price at which a ballroom for a particular event is rented may be determined by consideration of many factors, including the profit on supplementary sales, such as food and beverages served at the event, and the number of guest rooms rented in conjunction with the Event – Binham discloses received meeting facility criteria including meeting room and guest room meeting facility resources. In the alternative embodiment, the received meeting facility criteria also include desired food and beverage service meeting facility resources [0029] and a price for the defined meeting package is generated based upon the retrieved customer profile (block 516) [033], the request including a plurality of criteria, ([0008] the meeting package may be defined or reserved based on various meeting facility criteria input by the user, real time facility inventory, or facility reservation rules), (Figure 4 and [0029] meeting facility criteria are received (block 404) from the user via a graphical interface), [0030] a customer profile, a reservation rule, a reservation quota, and meeting facility inventory are retrieved. Thereafter the retrieved reservation rule is applied to determine whether the user input meeting facility criteria satisfy the retrieved reservation rule [0033] a price for the defined meeting package is generated based upon the retrieved customer profile. In one embodiment, customer profile includes a customer type designation such as corporate or government which entitles the designated customer to reduced prices for hotel guest room and other services (pricing rule corresponding to a criterion) [0038] a meeting facility employee may adjust room pricing values such as the corporate room rate and resource availability such as the number or booked or available meeting rooms Fig. 4 (404), (410); determining an availability of the requested function space based upon the availability information and one or more of the criterion (Fig. 5 (512) Are the Specified Meeting Facility Resources Available for Reservation?, page 1 [0008], page 4 [0033]); and upon determining that a requested function space satisfying the one or more plurality of criteria are available, determining a price for the requested function space based upon the set of pricing rules and one or more plurality of criterion ([0033] If sufficient meeting facility resources are available to cover those desired by the user as described in the meeting facility criteria then a meeting package definition is generated using the specified meeting facility resources (block 514), a price for the defined meeting package is generated based upon the retrieved customer profile (block 516); Figure 11 Reserve room for more than 7 nights and get 10% off; Fig. 5 (516) Price the Meeting Package Based on the Customer Profile; [0008] the meeting package may be defined or reserved based on various meeting facility criteria input by the user, real time facility inventory data, or facility reservation rules).

Referring to Claims 3, 11, and 19:

Bingham discloses a method, medium and system wherein the plurality of remote properties are individual hotels of a hotel chain (Figs. 11-12).

Referring to Claims 4, 12 and 20:

Bingham discloses a method, medium and system further comprising providing the price for the requested function space to a user in real-time (page 1 [0008] – a customer profile associated with the user may be used to determine the price of the meeting package or its component resources. The meeting package may be defined or reserved based on various meeting facility criteria input by the user, real time facility inventory data, or facility reservation rules. Fig. 5 [516], page 4 [0033], page 5 [0038].

Art Unit: 3629

Referring to Claims 5, 13 and 21:

Bingham discloses method, medium and system further comprising:
receiving an acceptance of the price for the requested function space from the user; and establishing a reservation for the requested function space (Fig. 4 (416), Fig. 5 (516), Fig. 12 (confirmation number, grand total), page 5 [[0037]]).

Referring to Claims 6, 14 and 22:

Bingham discloses a method, medium and system further comprising receiving a rejection of the price for the requested function space from the user; and providing alternatives to one or more of the plurality of criteria in real-time (Figs. 4-5, Fig. 11 alternatives are presented with differing prices)

Referring to Claims 7, 15 and 23:

Bingham discloses a method, medium and system wherein establishing a reservation for the requested function space includes allocating a function space of a specified category, the category specified by one or more category related criteria included in the plurality of criteria of the request (Figs. 4-5, page 1 [0008]).

Referring to 8, 16 and 24:

Bingham discloses a method, medium and system wherein the category related criteria include one or more criterion selected from the group consisting of attendance (Fig. 7 (706), event type (customer type Fig. 4) (page 4 [0033]), setup styles (Fig. 9 (906) (Setup Classroom) and area (Fig. 7 (708) (Figs 7-14).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed October 27, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The applicant argues that Bingham does not disclose upon determining that the requested function space satisfying the one or more plurality of criteria is available, determining a price for the requested function space based upon the set of pricing rules and one or more of the plurality of criteria. The Examiner respectfully disagrees.

Bingham discloses [0033] If sufficient meeting facility resources are available to cover those desired by the user as described in the meeting facility criteria then a meeting package definition is generated using the specified meeting facility resources (block 514), a price for the defined meeting package is generated based upon the retrieved customer profile (block 516).

The applicant argues on page 8 of the Remarks that in one embodiment, based on the user criteria (e.g. the number of people in attendance, the availability is determined. Then, if the user criteria indicates that people using the function space will be drinking alcohol, a first, lower price is given. Bingham discloses in Figure 11
